

Climate Institute

Rutgers Climate Symposium 2020

Public Universities and Transformative Climate Action for A Just Recovery

October 23, 2020

11:00 AM EDT

AGENDA

11:00 AM Welcome

Jonathan Holloway, President, Rutgers University
Laura Lawson, Interim Executive Dean, School of Environmental and Biological Sciences
Peter March, Executive Dean, School of Arts and Sciences

11:15 AM Plenary Panel I

The Role of Land Grant Universities in Listening to Citizens and Responding to Community Needs

Stephen Gavazzi, The Ohio State University

Role of Higher Education in Transformative Climate Action

Lisa Graumlich, University of Washington

Graduate Training to Bridge the Science-Practitioner Divide

Rosina Bierbaum, University of Michigan and University of Maryland

12:00 PM Break

12:15 PM Plenary Panel II

Building Capacity for Transformative Climate Action

Kevin Lyons, Rutgers University

Case Study in Translational and Transactional Multi-sectoral Engagement with Practitioners and Decision-makers

Jeanne Herb, Rutgers University

Incubating High Road Economic and Social Development

Joel Rogers, University of Wisconsin

1:00 PM Adjourn

Rutgers Climate Symposium is made possible through the generous support of the Frank Sposato Memorial Endowment